Neil Smith

PRESIDENT and GENERAL MANAGER

Born: January 9, 1954
Toronto, Ontario

Since joining the Rangers on July 17, 1989, Neil Smith has built the organization into one of the most talented teams in the National Hockey League.

In his first three seasons as general manager, New York finished in first place twice and second place once, the best three consecutive finishes in club history. The Rangers also captured the Presidents' Trophy as the NHL's Regular Season Champions in 1991-92.

Neil's outstanding accomplishments with the Rangers were recognized following the '91-92 season with two tremendous honors.

First, he was named the NHL Executive of the Year by The Sporting News, as voted by NHL general managers and governors, becoming the first Rangers executive to ever capture the award.

Then on June 19, 1992, he was promoted to the position of president and general manager, becoming the ninth president in Rangers history and the first president to also hold the title of general manager.

Following the conclusion of the '92-93 season, Neil moved quickly to secure the fifth winningest coach in NHL history. On April 17, he introduced Mike Keenan, who went to the Stanley Cup Finals with the Philadelphia Flyers and Chicago Blackhawks, as the Rangers new head coach at a MSG press conference only 14 hours after the Rangers season ended in Washington. Over the next six weeks, Neil completed the coaching staff by naming Colin Campbell as associate coach and Dick Todd as assistant coach.

Neil has built the Rangers through his extraordinary ability to recognize talent and by making bold moves when necessary.

Through the NHL Entry Draft, Neil has added players like Sergei Nemchinov, Alexei Kovalev and Sergei Zubov to the Rangers roster, while loading the organization's depth chart with top prospects at every position: goaltenders Corey Hirsch and Jon Hillebrandt; defensemen Mattias Norstrom, Eric Cairns, Lee Sorochan, Maxim Galanov, Michael Stewart and Darcy Werenka; and forwards Peter and Chris Ferraro, Niklas Sundstrom, Dimitre Starostenko, Jeff Nielsen and Sergei Olympijev.

In addition, when given an opportunity to improve the club through trades or signing free agents, Neil has acted quickly to add even more talent to the Rangers lineup.

In his first three seasons as general manager, he made deals to acquire Mark Messier, Mike Gartner, Jeff Beukeboom, Jay Wells and Joey Kocur and signed Adam Graves and Phil Bourque as free agents. Last season he upgraded the team's talent level by obtaining Eddie Olczyk, Esa Tikkanen, Kevin Lowe, John McIntyre and Mike Hartman, while adding defenseman Doug Lidster, forward Greg Gilbert and goaltender Glenn Healy to the roster during the off-season.

A native of Toronto, Ontario, Smith played junior hockey at Brockville, Ontario, before entering Western Michigan University, where he became an All-America defenseman as a freshman and team captain in his second year. In September of 1991, Neil was inducted into the school's Hall of Fame, the first hockey player ever given the honor.

After being selected by the New York Islanders in the NHL Amateur draft and playing two seasons in the International Hockey League, Neil joined the Islanders scouting department during the '80-81 season.

Following two seasons in that capacity, he joined the Detroit Red Wings in 1982 as director of professional scouting and soon after became director of their entire farm system.

Smith was then named director of scouting, player procurement and general manager/governor of the Adirondack Red Wings of the AHL, where he won two Calder Cup championships.

Mike Keenan

HEAD COACH

Born: October 21, 1949
Toronto, Ontario

On April 17, when the Rangers named Mike Keenan as their new head coach, they brought one of the most successful coaches in the history of the National Hockey League to New York.

Keenan's credentials as a head coach are impeccable. In guiding the Philadelphia Flyers for four seasons (1984-85 - 1987-88) and the Chicago Blackhawks for four seasons (1988-89 - 1991-92) his list of accomplishments are long and substantial, especially when you consider the following:

 .590 career winning percentage, based on his record of 343-228-69, is fifth on the NHL's all-time list.

 In eight seasons, he has coached a total of 117 playoff games, averaging 14.6 playoff games a season, which is more than any coach in the history of the league.

 Participated in three Stanley Cup Finals (Flyers in '85 and '87 and Blackhawks in '92) and has led his teams to the Conference Finals on five occasions.

 Won the NHL's Regular Season Championship twice and finished in first place five times.

 Won the Jack Adams Award as the NHL's Coach of the Year in '85 and was a finalist in '91. Won The Hockey News Coach of the Year award in '85 and '91 and was selected Coach of the Year by The Sporting News in '85.

 Guided Team Canada to two Canada Cup championships.

 Coached in three All-Star Games.

Mike also had tremendous success before entering the NHL, including winning the Canadian Collegiate Championship with the University of Toronto in 1983-84 and the Calder Cup (American Hockey League championship) with the Rochester Americans in 1982-83.

As a player, Keenan served as captain of the St. Lawrence University hockey team, while earning a Bachelor of Science degree in Physical Education. He also played for the University of Toronto, who won the Canadian Collegiate Championship in 1972-73, while earning a Master's degree in Education.

Mike began his coaching career with the Oshawa Legionaires (Junior B) of the Ontario Hockey Association in 1977-78 and began his winning ways by leading the team to the Metro Toronto Junior B Championship. Following a second championship the next season, he took over the Peterborough Petes of the OHL (Junior A) in 1979-80 and guided them to the League championship and to the Memorial Cup Finals.

Keenan then entered the professional ranks and joined the Rochester Americans of the AHL in 1980-81. He coached the Americans for three seasons, capturing the Calder Cup in his final season.

After coaching the University of Toronto (and winning another championship) in 1983-84, he was hired by the Philadelphia Flyers in May of 1984. In his first year, he led the Flyers to a club record 53 wins and the best record in the league. He became the first coach in NHL history to reach the 45 win plateau in each of his first three seasons, while leading Philadelphia to three straight Patrick Division championships.

Mike was named coach of the Chicago Blackhawks in June of 1989. After only two seasons as head coach, he added the general managers duties the following season and served as both the general manager and coach for two seasons. He began the 1992-93 season as general manager, but left the Hawks on November 6, 1992.

In addition to coaching Team Canada to two Canada Cup championships in 1987 and 1991, Mike has also coached the Canadian team in the World Junior Championships (1981) and the World Championships (1993).

Mike, who has also worked as a television and radio analyst, lives in Greenwich, Connecticut, and enjoys running, music and traveling.

Larry Pleau

ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER/ PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

Larry Pleau, who joined the Rangers organization in August of 1989, enters his fifth season as the club's assistant general manager/player development.

Pleau assists Neil Smith, the team's president and general manager, with the development of all amateur players in the organization, while he also oversees the day-to-day operation of the Rangers scouting department. In addition, he is involved in player transactions and the selection of players at the NHL Entry Draft. Larry also served as the assistant general manager for the 1991 United States Canada Cup Team.

While Larry is rarely seen at Madison Square Garden, he travels extensively throughout the year to Europe, Canada and across the United States to prepare for the draft and check on the development of Rangers prospects playing in high school, college, junior hockey or in Europe. His travels last year took him as far as the Ural Mountains in Siberia to scout 1993 Rangers draft picks Andrei Kudinov, Pavel Komarov and Maxim Smelnitski.

Pleau, 45, played three seasons with the Montreal Canadiens (1969-70 - 1971-72) in the National Hockey League, before being the first player signed by the Hartford Whalers of the World Hockey Association. He was a center/left wing for the Whalers from 1972 until his retirement in 1979. He played in a total of 468 regular-season games for Hartford, accumulating 157 goals and 215 assists for 372 points. In 66 playoff contests, he registered 29 goals and 22 assists for 51 points.

During his time with the Whalers, Larry scored 25 goals or more on four occasions and was selected to play in the WHA All-Star Game three times (1973, 1974 and 1975).

Pleau also played for the 1968 United States Olympic Team, the 1969 U.S. National Team and for Team USA in the 1976 Canada Cup Tournament.

A native of Lynn, Massachussettes, Larry became an assistant coach with the Whalers in 1979. He remained in that position until Feb. 20, 1981, when he took the reins as head coach.

The following season he added to his responsibilities as head coach and became the club's director of hockey operations. During his tenure the Whalers drafted many current NHL players including; Kevin Dineen, Ulf Samuelsson, Ray Ferraro, Randy Gilhen, Sylvain Turgeon, Joe Reekie and Sylvain Cote.

After two seasons in that position and a year as assistant general manager under Emile Francis, Pleau became director of hockey operations and head coach of the Binghamton Whalers of the American Hockey League in 1984-85.

In his first season at Binghamton, he led the team to a first-place finish with a record of 52-20-8 and in his third season (1986-87) he guided the club to a mark of 47-26-7, as he was named the AHL's Coach of the Year.

Larry remained in Binghamton for three and a half seasons before returning to Hartford as head coach for the remainder of the 1987-88 campaign and all of the 1988-89 season.

Larry and his wife, Wendy, recently moved to Seabrook, New Hampshire, where they reside with their son, Steve, and daughter, Shannon. Steve recently completed his freshman year at the University of New Hampshire, where he played on the school's hockey team.

Rangers Coaching Staff

Colin Campbell — Associate Coach

After a brief stint as the head coach of the Binghamton Rangers, Colin Campbell returned to New York when Rangers President and General Manager, Neil Smith named him the team's associate coach on June 21.

A native of London, Ontario, Campbell most recently served as the head coach for the Binghamton Rangers of the American Hockey League. He was named to the post on January 4 and guided Binghamton to a 29-8-5 record, helping them establish AHL records for most wins (57), and points (124) in a single season.

Campbell, 40, joined the Rangers organization as an assistant coach in August of 1990 and remained in that position through January of 1993. Prior to that he had served as an assistant coach for the Detroit Red Wings for five seasons.

An 11-year, NHL veteran, Campbell played junior hockey for Peterborough of the Ontario Hockey League. He was drafted by the Pittsburgh Penguins as their third choice (27th overall) in the 1973 NHL Amateur Draft, but signed to play with Vancouver of the WHA.

After one season in the WHA, Campbell switched to the NHL and played four years with Pittsburgh, one each with the Colorado Rockies and the Edmonton Oilers and two seasons with the Vancouver Canucks.

Campbell, who was a member of the Canucks team that went to the 1982 Stanley Cup Finals, signed with the Red Wings as a free agent in July of 1982. He went on to play three seasons with Detroit and retired following the 1984-85 season to become an assistant coach with the team.

Nicknamed "Soupy," he and his wife, Heather, reside in Rye, New York with their daughters Lauren and Courtney and son Gregory.

Dick Todd — Assistant Coach

Dick Todd, the Ontario Hockey League's all-time leader in wins, begins his first season as an assistant coach with the Rangers. Todd, who has spent the last 21 years with the Peterborough Petes, the last 12 as head coach, was named to the post on July 7.

The native of Peterborough, Ontario posted a career record of 477-239-53 along with a .655 winning percentage. Under Todd's guidance, Peterborough has won four Leyden Division Championships, two OHL Playoff Championship and advanced to two Memorial Cup Finals. In his 12 seasons behind the bench, the Petes have finished lower than third only one time.

In the last two seasons, the Petes', led by the number two pick in the 1993 Entry Draft, Chris Pronger, compiled a record of 87-33-12 for a .705 winning percentage.

Todd, 48, led Team Canada to a gold medal at the 1991 World Junior Tournament in Saskatoon and in 1990, he was the assistant coach for Team Canada when they earned a silver medal at the World Junior Championships in Helsinki, Finland. In 1987-88 he was selected by his peers as the OHL Coach of the Year.

Over the past two decades, Todd has held many different positions with the Petes, including trainer, head coach, and general manager. He began his coaching career halfway through the 1981-82 season, replacing Dave Dryden. He remained as head coach through this past season when he led Peterborough to a 46-15-5 record, finishing with the best record in the OHL and winning the OHL Playoff Championship.

In his 12 years behind the bench for the Petes, Todd has coached numerous players who have since gone on to the NHL including; Steve Yzerman, Kay Whitmore, Kris King, Jody Hull, Tie Domi, Mike Ricci, Terry Carkner, Randy Burridge, Bob Errey, Ron Tugnutt, Luke Richardson and last year's junior phenom, Chris Pronger.

Dick currently resides in Rye with his wife, Mary and his daughter, Terri-Anne.

NIKLAS SUNDSTROM 1/8 C/L 6-0 185 6/06/75 Ornskoldsvik, Sweden

Number one rated European player in the draft by Central Scouting ... First of six Swedish players taken in the first round and the second of eight European players drafted in the first round ... As a 17-year old, he was a regular this season with MoDo in the Swedish Elite League, where he notched seven goals and 11 assists for 18 points in 40 games ... Was center on a line for former NHL'er Tommy Lehmann and teammates with former Ranger Milo Horava ... Played for the Swedish National Junior team in both the World Junior Tournament and the European Junior Tournament ... Was the fourth leading scorer at the World Jr. Tournament, collecting 10 goals and four assists in seven games ... Played on a line with Peter Forsberg and Markus Naslund helping Team Sweden earn a silver medal at the World Junior Tournament ... Outscored Alexander Daigle, Paul Kariya, Pat Peake, Brian Rolston, and Ryan Sittler at the World Junior Tournament ... Also a key player at the European Championships as his 13 points (four goals and nine assists) in only five contests tied him for the overall scoring lead ... Made his Swedish Elite League debut with MoDo in 1991-92 as a 16-year old ... Can play center or wing ... An excellent playmaker, who will pay the price to get the job done ... Creates scoring chances because of his speed and smartness ... Is excellent on faceoffs ... Strong skater with good balance and a quick release ... Can score in close as he holds his ground in front of the net ... Solid two-way player, who sees ice time in every crucial game situation ... Was coached by Peter Forsberg's father, Kent, last season ... Has one year left at a special high school in Ornskoldsvik for hockey playing students ... Has taken English in school for the last seven years ... No relation to brothers Patrik and Peter Sundstrom, who both played in the NHL ... His favorite player growing up was former NHL'er and Swedish star, Bengt Gustafsson ... Enjoys playing tennis ... Central Scouting says "Sundstrom can be the next super-junior in Swedish hockey." ... Was the second Swedish player ever taken by the Rangers in the first round (Ulf Dahlen) ... Is the fifth highest Swede drafted following Mats Sundin, 1st overall in 1989 by Quebec, Bjorn Johansson 5th in 1976 by California, Peter Forsberg who was drafted sixth overall by Philadelphia in 1991 and Ulf Dahlen, seventh overall by the Rangers in 1985.

LEE SOROCHAN 2/34 D/L 6-1 210 9/09/75 Edmonton, Alberta

A very talented defenseman who is solid both offensively and defensively ... At 17 years, nine months and 17 days, he was the second youngest player selected in the Entry Draft ... Registered eight goals and 32 assists for 40 points in 69 games while accumulating 208 penalty minutes for the Lethbridge Hurricanes of the Western Hockey League ... At age 17, he has already completed two full seasons with Lethbridge and has three more years of junior eligibility remaining ... Is strong on his skates and possesses the ability to come out of the corner with the puck ... Is adept at checking in the open ice ... Clears traffic in front of the net ... Is physically aggressive and forces the play at the blueline ... A mobile defenseman who handles the puck with poise ... Admires Dave Manson because he's a physically tough and smart player ... Finished the season with Jason Widmer (NY Islanders pick last year) as his defensive partner ... Was teammates for a season and a half with Rangers second round selection in the 1991 draft, Darcy Werenka ... Has played on provincial champion baseball team for the last two years ... Playing with Sherwood Park in 1990-91, he was a member of the team that placed second at the Air Canada Cup (AAA Midget Nationals) ... Was a member of Canada's Under-18 team that earned the gold medal at the Pacific Cup in Japan last August ... Nickname is Trucker ... Is currently attending Gibbons High School in Alberta.

Rangers president and general manager Neil Smith welcomes first round selection Niklas Sundstrom to the organization.

Rangers Alumni Association

With the motto of "Keeping in Touch with Tradition," the Rangers Alumni Association has become an increasingly more visible organization.

The association participates in various charity softball games and hockey games throughout the year, while many of the members of the RAA often represent the Rangers at golf outings and youth hockey clinics.

The two most prestigious functions of the Alumni Association are the Sharp Electronics Legends Game, played at Madison Square Garden and the annual RAA Golf Outing.

This year the Rangers Alumni will face off against an NHL Legends All-Star team as part of the festivities for the 1994 NHL All-Star Game which will be held in Madison Square Garden on January 22.

At the golf outing held in September the Rangers honored two Rangers legends, Camile Henry and Brad Park, along with long-time Rangers publicist, John Halligan.

Rye Playland

OFFICIAL PRACTICE FACILITY OF THE NEW YORK RANGERS

Playland
Rye, New York

For the past 14 seasons the New York Rangers have held their daily practices at Rye Playland's Ice Casino. Playland is one the summer's hottest attractions, an amusement park featuring the "Dragon Coaster." Several times each season the Rangers hold practices that are open to the public. This season open practices are scheduled for December 11, January 1 and February 5.

NHL Realignment

On March 31, 1993 the National Hockey League announced a new divisional alignment and playoff format for the 1993-94 season.

Conferences and divisions were given new names to reflect the geographical alignment of the league. A new schedule format was adopted and is as follows: Eastern Conference teams will play five games vs. each divisional opponent, four games against each of the seven teams in the other division of their conference and two contests vs. each Western Conference team. Western Conference clubs will play six games against each of five divisional opponents, four games against each of the six teams in the other division of their conference and two contests vs. each Eastern Division club.

The league will move to a conference based playoff system with the first place team in the regular season competing against #8,; #2 vs. #7; #3 vs. #6; and #4 vs. #5. Matchups will be based on overall points achieved in the regular-season, with the four regular-season champions being place in the first and second seeds in each conference. All series will remain best-of-seven with the exception of matchups between Central and Pacific division teams which would be played on a 2-3-2 basis to reduce travel. In a 2-3-2 series, the team with the most points will have its choice as to whether to start the series at home or on the road.

BINGHAMTON RANGERS

Binghamton Rangers Coaching Staff

Al Hill
Head Coach

After spending the last two and a half seasons as an assistant coach with the Binghamton Rangers, Al Hill was named head coach of the club on August 19. He returns after serving as an assistant coach in New York from January 4 through the remainder of last season.

Hill, 37, originally joined Binghamton as an assistant coach in August of 1990 after holding the same position with the Hershey Bears. He was teammates with former Binghamton coach John Paddock with the Philadelphia Flyers in 1979-80 and played on two AHL Calder Cup Championship teams in Maine and Hershey (1988).

A former NHL center, Hill played in 221 National Hockey League games, all with the Flyers. In his first game, he scored two goals and three assists in a 6-4 win over St. Louis on February 14, 1977. The five point total remains a record for most points by a player in his first NHL game. A native of Nanaimo, British Columbia, Hill also played in 655 AHL games with Springfield, Maine, Moncton, and Hershey.

Al and his wife, Deanna spend the off-season in Hershey, Pennsylvania with their children Justin and Jarrod.

Mike Busniak
Assistant Coach

Mike Busniak begins his first season with the Binghamton Rangers after being named assistant coach on September 2, 1993.

Busniak, 43, has spent the last two seasons as co-coach along with Bob McCammon of the Tri-City Americans of the Western Hockey League.

The native of Thunder Bay, Ontario played in 143 NHL matches with the Philadelphia Flyers from 1979-80 to 1980-81. He was originally drafted in 1971 by the Montreal Canadiens. Busniak was a member of five Calder Cup Championship teams, two with the Nova Scotia Voyageurs in 1975-76 and 1976-77 and three with Maine in 1977-78, 1978-79 and 1983-84. A graduate of Denver University, Busniak finished his playing career spending three seasons in Italy.

Mike and his wife Jan spend the off-season in Thunder Bay with their three children, Jake, Katie and Molly.

NEW YORK RANGERS 1993-94 MEDIA GUIDE

If we were just any beer,
we'd probably need a pretty picture.

Just being the best is enough.
